PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a friendly, conscientious and driven individual with a passion for delivering excellent service. I completed two A-levels in Psychology and Criminology which helped me develop good problem solving and critical thinking skills. I work extremely well in a team but can also work effectively on my own. I can adapt to change and can work calmly in high pressure environments. If given an opportunity, you will see my determination and my flexible approach. I am currently seeing a role to use my skills while providing an environment to further develop them.
