

LUBOSI KONGWA

SUMMARY

A finance student at the University of Nottingham, with a strong passion for AI automation. I transitioned from traditional finance studies to developing no-code AI solutions, helping businesses automate repetitive tasks, streamline workflows, and drive efficiency. As the No-Code AI Architect at Compu-Connect Education, I have experience developing strategic AI-driven projects, growing digital engagement, and creating effective social media campaigns. Adept at both collaborative and independent work, I bring creativity, strong communication, and problem-solving skills to any dynamic organization ready to leverage AI for smarter operations.
