My working environment has mainly been in a Factory/warehouse logistic setting I have gained many skills from there such as using drills and over equipment scanning and Quality control of the product, I've always like to branch out and do new stuff learn new skills to stretch my career further and be open to more opportunities in the future. I've always been good at working under pressure as well as having great communication skills and a really fast learner. Hope I'm the right fit for your team thank you Marley.
