Profile

As a newly qualified HGV driver, since the 03 June, I bring a strong commitment to safety, attention to detail, and a dedication to continuous learning. While I may have limited experience, my enthusiasm, adaptability, and willingness to embrace challenges make me a promising candidate for your team. I'm eager to contribute to your organization's success and open to a lower starting salary to gain valuable hands-on experience in this dynamic industry. With a solid foundation in HGV driving principles, I'm ready to uphold safety and efficiency standards and make a positive impact on your operations.

HGV driving is something I have wanted to do for many years, and I personally invested in my HGV and Driver CPC training.

Prior to this I have worked in various customer Service roles, and I can honestly say that each have benefitted me for their own unique reasons. Over the years I think it's fair to say I have encountered a variety of situations, and a variation of customers/clients which have allowed me to understand others and always appreciate another perspective and use that to build a foundation with others. My experience in roles has been that of face-to-face communication, and telephone communications.

Employment History

Since June, I have worked for Evri (Agency) in a HGV2 role, and in addition to driving, loading/unloading has been part of my responsibilities. Although I enjoy working for Evri, the shifts provided have been inconsistent, so I am looking for a role – preferably HGV1 - where I am working 5 days a week with overtime.
