I consider myself to be a hardworking and a positive person with lots to offer, also I think that I am a very kind and patient person who gets along with most people. I have completed a Prince's Trust course to improve my range of skills e.g. teamwork, leadership, confidence and much more. The things I do in my spare is mainly play on my playstation with my friends. I also love to watch films especially Disney. I know I have experience in the warehouse industry. Worked with global renewable doing different jobs like picking of the line driving the teletrucks and working on the baler. Whenever anything needed doing or something was wrong I would be there to help anyway possible. I also have my npors for a telescopic handler I have only had about 3 months of experience so I'm fairly new I really enjoyed the experience of using them and would like to improve my skills driving them.

Willing to relocate: Anywhere
